

Installation supervision and commissioning

Polyexpim FZE provides a full range of installation and commissioning services for the manufactured equipment. Each enterprise faces the need to install a new equipment or replace existing unserviceable equipment and those that have reached the end of their useful life and the continued use of which would be viewed as a safety risk. This concerns both the main elements of production facilities and auxiliary systems. For smooth functioning of technological equipment, installation and commissioning should be carried out only by highly qualified specialists.

Polyexpim FZE as a manufacturer offers a range of services for installation, connection, trial run, commissioning of equipment in accordance with established technical regulations. The Customer's specialists are instructed in working with the supplied equipment. In addition to visits of teams for commissioning and installation supervision, we can provide also the remote consultations.

Installation of the equipment often comes with pre-commissioning, hook-up and testing, depending on Customer's requirements with fulfillment of warranty in accordance with the terms of the contract.

